Our story:
How did Ness propose	What was conveyed to Tina as a business trip to Melbourne, six months of planning was definitely proven: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Three nights in a Penthouse</li> <li>• Seafood Dinner on the Harbour</li> <li>• Arrived back to see the room decked with 300 candles, rose petals, 2 dozen roses, Vintage Moe and a rather inviting spa</li> <li>• A PowerPoint slide was presented to Tina showing pictures of the times they've shared together, their friends, and their puppies mixed in with romantic verses from Ness' heart – last page was a news paper clipping of them with the title 'Princess, will you marry me?'</li> </ul> Tina said yes even before she sighted the multi-carat diamond ring!
What was the best part of the day	Seeing each other at the isle ☺
What was the worst part of the day	When the reception was over. We blinked and felt we missed the whole night!
What would I do different	Nothing
Couples advice	Be sure that you each spend at least a solid 10 mins with each other during the reception
